

CAMBRIDGE BLACK HERITAGE

Programme of events 2022

BRIDGING DIVERSITY WITH TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION

Saturday 1st October

Storey's Field Centre, Edington

3pm - 10.30pm

Women's Voices for Africa

A multicultural event of building networks and understanding. The day includes fashion, culture, exhibitions, speeches, music, live music and an excellent opportunity for people from different ethnic backgrounds - senior government officials, diplomats, business leaders and specialists – to come together, network, build new partnerships and have a greater appreciation of the varied backgrounds.

Tickets and further info HERE

Facebook: Women's Voices for Africa

BRITISH NECESSITY:

Bringing a piece of forgotten Black history to life with Jon Berry

Tuesday 4th October

Free on-line event 7.30pm – 9pm

Join us for an 'in conversation' event with ARU alumni Jon Berry, whose new book explores a tale from Black Birmingham's past that illuminates the present.

More details and booking HERE

HOWARDENA PINDELL: A NEW LANGUAGE

Current exhibition until 30th October 2022

Kettle's Yard

Bringing together work from Pindell's six decade long career, this exhibition tracks the development of Pindell's artistic language, and examines her work as exemplary in articulating empowerment. More information HERE

BLACK SHEEP

Thursday 6th October

Cambridge Junction

Time: 7.30pm

Price: Pay what you feel

Presented by Livia Kojo Alour

Black Sheep is an autobiographical story about a black woman re-defining and finding love. Love in all it's forms but foremost self love.

Tickets and further info HERE

PATHOLOGISING RACE

Thursday 13th October

With Angela Saini

Free online event: 7.00 – 8.00pm

Oludah Equiano Annual Lecture on Race Justice. Racial categories may feel tangible, but as we know from history, anthropology and genetics, they are no more rooted in biology than any other social construct

Tickets and further info HERE

CHANNEL ONE SOUND SYSTEM

Saturday 15th October

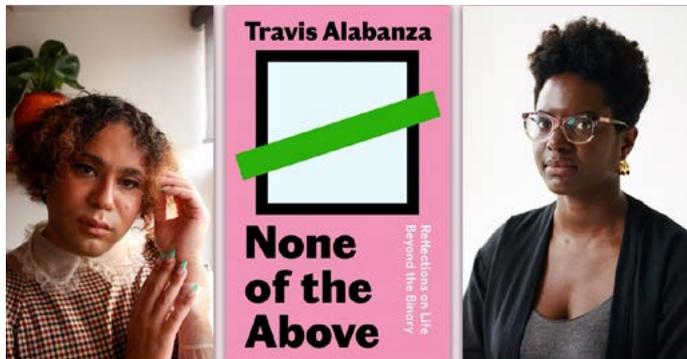

Cambridge Junction

Time: 8pm - 2am

Price: £21 adv | 18+

An upfull 6 hour Roots & Culture, Reggae, Dubwise session. With Mikey Dread & Ras Kayleb alongside various artists passing through.

Tickets and further info HERE

NONE OF THE ABOVE

Saturday 15th October

Travis Alabanza & Reni Eddo-Lodge at Central Library. 3.30 – 5pm. Free.

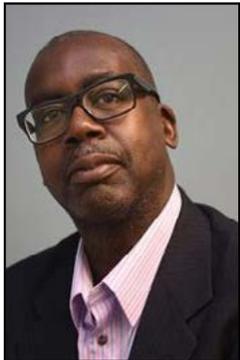

A streamed discussion: Travis Alabanza talks to Reni Eddo-Lodge, author of Why I'm No Longer Talking to White People About Race, about their new book None of the Above, where they examine phrases people have directed at them about their gender identity. More info HERE

THE WINDRUSH STORY UPDATE

Monday 17th October

With Patrick Vernon OBE

Free online event: 7.00 – 8.30 pm

What is the Windrush scandal, who are the Windrush generation, and what has happened to those people? Patrick Vernon is one of the foremost commentators on the Windrush scandal. He is also a film maker, cultural historian and health campaigner and we invited him to update us on his work.

Bookings and further info HERE

TWO AND A HALF QUESTIONS

Thursday 20th October

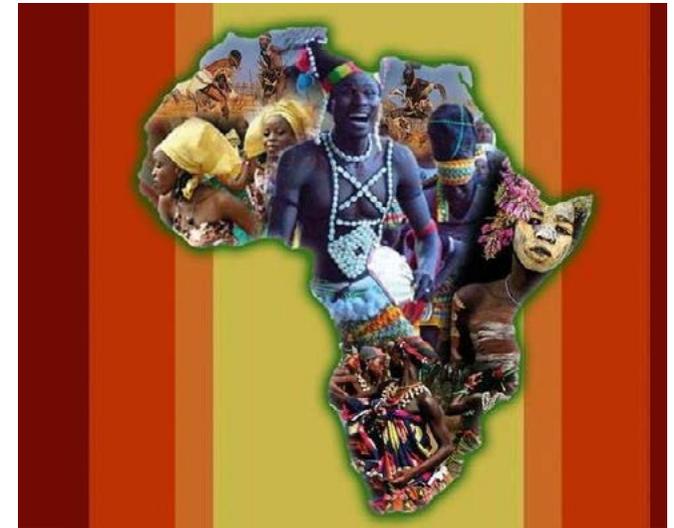

Film Screening and Q&A

Milton Road Library 7:30 PM – 9 PM

Working with a group of young people, the filmmaker, Clovis Lowe captured interviews to explore the lives and aspirations of the Windrush generation and those who came after them.

More info HERE

CELEBRATING AFRICAN ARTS AND CULTURE

Saturday 29th October

Cambridge African Network

Storey's Field Centre, Eddington

11am – 4pm

Free African Market and Bazaar, with stalls, interactive arts and crafts and fitness activities.

6pm – 11.30pm

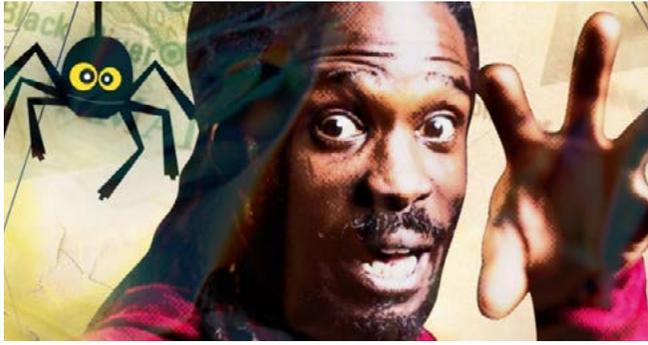

Gala Evening Party Event (ticketed) with African buffet dinner, music, dancing and cultural shows.

Bookings and further info HERE

CAMBRIDGE BLACK HERITAGE

Like our Facebook page celebrating Black Heritage in Cambridge – and beyond – HERE.

If you would like contribute please email Ariadne Henry at Ariadne.Henry@cambridge.gov.uk

GRANDAD ANANSI

Sunday 30th October

Cambridge Junction

Time: 11.30am & 2.30pm

Price: £12.50 adult | £8.50 child

Presented by Half Moon and Z-arts

Abi and her Grandad tell each other Anansi folktales in the garden - as they plant memories, they share secrets and develop a bond that nothing can break.

Tickets and further info HERE

EQUANO BRIDGE
RENAMING CEREMONIES
www.equianobridge.org.uk

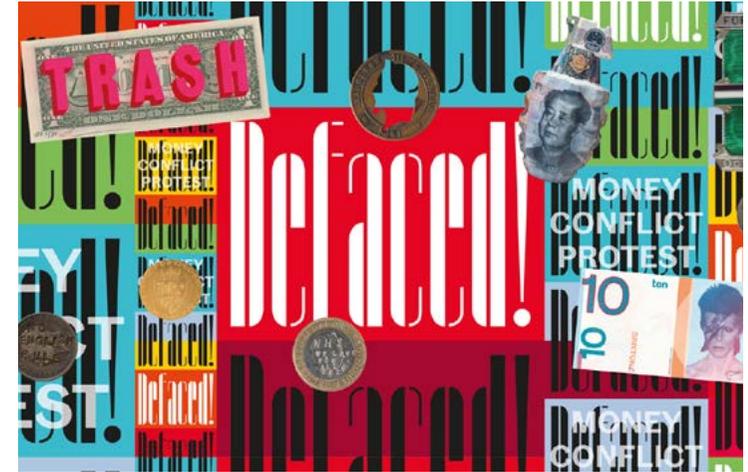

POWER AND MEMORY

October 2022 – January 2024

University of Cambridge Museums

Who has the power to choose what stories we remember and tell? Where can we find acts of courage, conflict or censorship in our collections? What does change look like today? Throughout 2022-24 the University's museums and collections will be hosting a programme of events, displays, workshops, and community-led discussions confronting Cambridge's colonial story.

Full programme of events HERE

LEGACIES OF ENSLAVEMENT INQUIRY

On the 22nd September the University of Cambridge shared a digest of peer-reviewed research into its historical connections to enslavement, together with a response from the Vice-Chancellor.

The University will now begin to implement the report's recommendations by creating a Cambridge Legacies of Enslavement Fund which will be put towards research, community engagement and partnership activities. Read more about it HERE