Locality's role

- Help to link new residents to existing services and community provision
- Help address any gaps in the above
- Activate and connect residents to help in the community-building process
- Connect key partners (from developers, Council representatives and service providers) to ensure that the new community is best served
- Provide an evidence base and measurement framework for showing progress towards a new community being built
- Build self-sustaining legacy for the work

Research and evidence base

Locality's work strands

- Community engagement and development
- Steering Group/Partnerships
- Site presence, comms and services triage
- Provide an evidence base and measurement framework
- Build self-sustaining legacy for the work

Community engagement and development

- Small scale community building work – coffee mornings, arts and craft, social media groups
- Activating residents to support their communities – e.g. volunteering, supporting residents to deliver their own community projects/ventures
- Grants scheme
- Building up local sense of identity – use of arts and heritage – annual Marleigh event

Partnership

- Building awareness of this work amongst key partners and supporting their contribution to it
- Core partner group
- Wider partner engagement
- Ensure service providers build up understanding of the needs of this new community and are accessible to new residents

Legacy

- Build self-sustaining legacy for the work
- Resident supported to serve themselves going forward
- Residents up-skilled as needed to bring in resources and advocate for itself going forwards
- Importance of linking structure to other key partners
- New structure/vehicle – e.g. Community Development Trust?
