16-07-15 at 14:24  Incident 11-07-15 daytime          Incidents 10-7-15 evening and 11-07-15 daytime	444370	Local residents, who have been punting before, know the history of the colleges and wanted to punt themselves received misinformation from punt touts. On Saturday 11 July, the residents were immediately approached at Quayside and told that they would have to wait 1.5 hours to self-hire and that it would cost £30. Instead a chauffeured trip could be offered for £12 per person, instead of the usual price of £18 per person, with only a 15 minute wait. A voucher was provided to present if they wanted to take up the offer.  Empty punts were seen arriving so they went to another punting company on the river and asked if they could do a self-hire. They were told it would be £20 per hour and that they could have one in 5 minutes, which they undertook.  Littering has also been witnessed by punt workers.	Quayside

22-07-15 at 13:00	447943	A punt tout stepped out in front of a cyclist moving between the Senate House, along King's Parade, towards Kings College. The cyclist rang the bell and the punt tout said 'Look where you're going. You shouldn't be cycling here'. The cyclist replied that they could and the tout started being verbally abusive, calling names including 'Queer. Puff'. The cyclist returned later as they did not want to engage with the tout further and two punt touts from another company, who had witnessed the earlier incident, checked that the member of public was okay and advised that the abusive punt tout ran his own company. The cyclist, as a resident of Cambridge paying taxes, felt that they should not have to put up with this threatening behaviour.	Kings Parade
06-08-15 Incident 25-07-15	457174	Complainant reported being shocked by the aggression of the touts competing with each other to get sales commission. He suggested that the complainant was a prostitute and said other things that were offensive, ridiculing and belittling. Complainant added the 'punt touts are operating outside Great Street Mary's Church at the time and this has happened on a couple of occasions'.	Outside of Great Street Mary's Church, Kings Parade

27-08-15 at 10:00	468687	A punt promoter, standing outside 'EAT' in the city centre made some very rude and abusive comments. Whilst passing by, he shouted with pointing and motioning towards the member of public. 'wet dog, I can smell wet dog, what is that smell? What a wet dog!'	St Tibbs Row Lion Yard
26-09-15	487713	Cambridge residents were aggressively approached by multiple punt touts whilst walking through the City last weekend. At one point they were obstructed by one tout, only to be accosted by a second offering a "ten pound discount" as they tried to escape the first of the touts.  The complainant said 'as a resident, who can punt and knows where to hire a punt if required, I felt that whilst not physically threatening, this sort of behaviour turns a pleasant Sunday stroll in the town into some sort of gauntlet run'.	Cambridge City Centre
05-10-15 at 09:18	487731	Complaint received about punt operators, using the land below the sluice and punt rollers in the town centre, they were threatening and abusive to an older resident, who was fishing. The resident asked them politely not to try to park punts where fishing was taking place. There were 6 punts. The punt touts acted in a threatening and abusive manner, one them telling the resident to F off. Another one said they had more right to be there than the member of public did.	River bank
26-10-15 at 09:26	500609	Complainant witnessed aggressive touting in the Market Square area. Several punt touts were running after tourists as well as constantly stepping in front of groups waving boards in their faces. The complainant is really fed-up with these people giving our city a bad name.	Market Square
